

Ownership rules should not be relaxed. It is supremely important to prevent monopoly in the media and the proliferation of channels does not provide adequate consumer choice.